OUR SPECIALITY

As one of the leading companies in interior design the Nicholas Interiors & Design SMC Limited invented its own procedure of transferring picture information on construction materials - NIDZML. This computer-based procedure converts the picture information into the materials. To do this, the picture needs to be converted in true quantity-scale. Of those now determined quantity-scale values a work data will be generated that gives the converting orders to a CNC-guided converting machine.

We apply this innovative technique is used in architecture, interior design, exhibition design, as well as for private usage. Because of its durability and reproducibility, NIDZML are used for facade design for different types of building. During presentations or exhibitions this unique type of image presentation captivates the audience.

NIDZML can be made of any black and white or color picture in the ordinary formats PNG or GIF. The size of nitechgramm is freely selectable. The maximum size of the material is 7100 to 3000 millimeters. If there is a need for a bigger size, NIDZML can be built of many smaller ones to form a greater whole.

NIDZML can be converted into one of the following materials: medium density fiberboard (MDF), acryl glass or concrete. There three different methods of converting the picture into the material: vertical, horizontal and concentric.
